New Salaris AD₃E

Supplement made from Norwegian salmon oil, enriched with fat-soluble vitamins. Natural source of fatty acids EPA, DHA, DPA, astaxanthin, and other phospholipids that support the overall well-being of pets.

Outstanding source of 3, 6 and 9 Animal origin

Rich in long-chain Omega 3 essential fatty acids (EPA/DHA/DPA), as well as Omega 6 and 9. Omega 3 fatty acid offers numerous benefits due to its anti-inflammatory, antioxidant, and antithrombotic properties; it is crucial for the optimal development of all bodily systems, particularly the nervous and circulatory systems. Since this acid is not synthesized by the animal's body, it must be provided through the diet.

Astaxanthin

Carotenoids of natural origin possess powerful anti-inflammatory properties and robust antioxidant capabilities. It counteracts the effects of free radicals, enhances cardiovascular health, shields the brain from cognitive decline and protects other organs from oxidative stress.

AD₃E Vitamins Blend of fat-soluble vitamins

Vitamin A: Essential for the proper development and function of the eyes, skin, immune system, and reproductive system.

Vitamin D₃: Crucial for the absorption and regulation of calcium and phosphorus at adequate physiological levels. It also supports proper bone development, immune system health, and cellular differentiation, growth, and apoptosis.

Vitamin E: Acts as a potent antioxidant combatting free radicals. It also aids in replenishing other antioxidants in the body, including glutathione, freeing it for other important vital functions, such as toxin elimination and vitamin and minerals transport.

Benefits

- Optimal cardiovascular health
Promotes adequate blood circulation and minimizes inflammation within the blood vessels.
- Enhanced joint health
Aids alleviating inflammation and discomfort in pets suffering from arthritis or other joint issues.
- Healthy skin, denser coat and lustrous fur
Hydrates the skin, reduces itching, pruritus, and flaking. Also strengthens hair follicles, minimizing hair shedding.
- Proper development of the central nervous system
Supports brain health and cognitive functions, especially vital during early growth phases and in older animals.
- Boosted immune response
Fortifies the immune systems of pets, assisting in the reduction of inflammation.
